

Our Place in the Field

August 2017

God is perfect.

He has created the beasts that live in the field upon the Earth. The field is God's nature that he has created. They live their lives and die there on that place He has made for them. They live with a level of sentience He has given them. They can feel. They are not perfect in accordance with His plan.

He has created the humans to live in the field with a higher level of sentience for the time of their lives. They can feel more. They are not perfect in accordance with His plan.

He has created the angels who live closer to Him in Heaven and visit the field when they are needed. Theirs is the highest level of sentience, closest to Him, that He has created. But they are still just His creatures and are imperfect also.

All His creatures are imperfect – the beasts, the humans and the angels – by His design.

None of His creatures can know His vision or His purpose. But all are given glimpses when that is needed.

The humans are charged with the care and protection of the beasts who exist for the sustenance of their human lives.

The angels are charged with the protection of the humans when that is needed.

All creatures are individual beings and exist in the field. All creatures have immortal souls that exist for eternity after their Earthly bodies cease to exist.

The field is one place and all authentic lives exist there for their Earthly allotted time. All souls live in the field for all time by the Grace of God who is perfect.

His presence is felt inside all creatures when He wishes it to be so all creatures can know His love with certainty. Faith in Him is not needed. All souls are open to His eternal truth – to love the beasts, to love the humans, to love the angels and to know His love.

There is no darkness. There is no fear. There is only this purpose seen in the light of His goodness.
